Willoughby House was once a private home frequented by Royalty. Today it is recognized as one of the nicest places to stay in the whole of the Cotswolds. Your accommodation will be in twin or king rooms and includes a sumptuous full English breakfast each morning. Cheltenham is the perfect place for visiting not only the magnificent Cotswolds but the optional day tours include visits to Stratford upon Avon, Oxford, Wales as well as the classic villages of Broadway, Bourton on the Water, Morton in Marsh and Stow on the Wold. A self-drive car is available for those who prefer to get around by themselves.

Four nights is the perfect length of time to absorb everything that London has to offer and the Cove Travel team can help with theatre tickets, transport and sight-seeing tours.

The final part of the holiday gives you the chance to experience the French Riviera from a point of view enjoyed by only the fortunate few. Royal Mougins is situated in a tranquil location in sight of the foothills of the Alps, yet it is only minutes from bustling Cannes and a short journey to Monte Carlo, Nice and St Tropez. There is even a little train running right through the golf course which will transport you to Italy in under two hours. And, of course, there is the opportunity to play golf at specially reduced rates on the spectacular Royal Mougins Course.
